GLENDALE VALLEY IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Improvement Association held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday evening at K. of P. hall. There was a good attendance, and a number of matters of general importance were discussed. During the evening music was furnished by Mrs. S. G. Biddle, violinist, accompanied by Miss Myrtle Harrison; and by Miss Pearl Harrison, who treated the audience to vocal solos, accompanied by her sister, Miss Myrtle. Little Mildred McKee recited two selections in her inimitable manner. Various committees reported progress. The billboard matter was brought before the association by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who stated that the law is on the subject, and reported on the progress being made in getting property owners to agree not to give permission for the use of their property for billboard purposes. The Carnegie library matter was discussed at some length. Opinion generally, as expressed, was in favor of postponing further action until after the consolidation campaign is over. Mr. J. C. Beldin and one of two others spoke against the acceptance of Mr. Carnegie's money on any condition, believing that it would be better for the city to pay for and have entire control of its own library, without any "strings" on it. A motion prevailed by unanimous vote to the effect that the library, when secured, should be located in the territory bounded by Third and Fifth streets, between Glendale avenue and Brand boulevard. It was decided to appear in a body before the city trustees at their next meeting and present the views of the association on the subject. Mr. L. E. Elliott, of North Louise street, stated that he had spent some time interviewing the voters of the Casa Verdugo section, within the territory proposed to be annexed to Glendale, and instead of finding them, as had been reported, nearly unanimous in their objections to consolidation, he was of the opinion that they are fairly divided on the subject, and that when the matter is better understood he believed that a majority will support the proposition. Mr. G. B. Woodberry made a statement in regard to the library situation, explaining that the matter had been before the board of trustees since last June, when they had been requested by the library board to take steps to secure a Carnegie library. Since that time there had been considerable correspondence in regard to it, and a number of propositions had been made to the board in response to the request of that body. The next regular monthly meeting will be at the usual place, on the evening of Friday, November 25 (following Thanksgiving).

RECEPTION.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a reception to the members of their congregation who are newly arrived in Glendale and to those who have not become well acquainted. The reception will be held at the home of Mrs. Byram, opposite the Ganahl Lumber yard, on Glendale avenue, near Second street, Friday, Nov. 11th, both afternoon and evening. It is destined by the ladies of the church that all members of the congregation shall consider themselves as personally invited and that the older members may be present with the intent that the strangers shall be welcomed and made acquainted as generally as possible. The reception for the afternoon will be in the hands of the wives of the elders of the church and the evening reception will be in the hands of the Ladies' Aid Society.

SPECIAL EVANGELISTIC MEETING.

Rev. Lloyd Darsie of Hollywood will begin special meetings in the Central Christian church, corner of Sixth and Louise streets, Sunday evening, November 6, and services will be held every evening except Saturday for the next three weeks at 7:30 p. m. Special subjects emphasized during first week will be Sunday evening, Nov. 6, "What is Worth While" or "Eternity in the Heart." Wednesday, Nov. 9th, "Who is My Neighbor." Fraternal orders especially invited. Friday, Nov. 11, "My Father's Business." Mr. Darsie is one of the most popular speakers among the Disciples of Christ, appearing many times on the program of their national conventions. We hope to make these meetings enjoyable and profitable to all who can attend them. You are cordially invited.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Mr. Simeon Grant has sold his home on Sixth street east of Verdugo road to Mr. Anderson, who is connected with the packing house at Glendale avenue and Lomita. The place consists of a full bearing orange orchard of two acres with story and a half house and other improvements. Mr. Grant and family will leave Glendale in a few days for the San Joaquin valley where he has land. Later Mr. and Mrs. Grant will probably visit their old home in Nebraska, returning ultimately to California.

Mrs. Lewis of Los Angeles has bought a house and lot of Mr. P. P. Harrison on Kenwood street north of Third street and will make it her home.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Table tours around the world will be enjoyed by members and guests of the Tuesday Afternoon Club November 8th at the Filger Opera house.

Mrs. J. W. Riggie of Piru was the guest Tuesday of Mrs. M. Rehart at her home on East Fourth street.

CITY TRUSTEES

Library Question Draws a Crowd
City Attorney Instructed to Prepare Resolution for Bond Election

"Standing room only" would have been an appropriate legend for a sign at the city hall Monday evening last. All parts of the valley were represented in the lobby. After the reading of the minutes and presentation of demands, the order of business was changed, and Mr. Pirtle was heard in regard to the application of G. B. Mock for an extension of thirty days time for completion of Glendale avenue, with the understanding that extension was simply for the purpose of protecting the bondholders. The petition was granted. The library matter was then brought up. Mr. E. D. Goode read a statement reciting some of Glendale's history, showing what had been accomplished by the people in the neighborhood of Fourth and Glendale avenue. He expressed the belief that harmony could best be secured by proceeding to locate the library and city hall on Fourth street, east of Glendale avenue, after which he and others interested in the present library matter would be glad to assist the annexation project.

Mr. Russell, of the Valley Improvement Association, read a letter from Wilnot Parcher, expressing the belief that it is not wise at the present time to saddle the city with a debt of $12,000 to furnish a library which will be inadequate and unsatisfactory to the Glendale of the future. A communication was received from the Overton Realty Company, offering lots on the northwest corner of Fourth and Jackson streets for $6,700, property being 100 by 160 feet. A petition was received asking the trustees to call an election at once, signed by 160 residents. Mr. Gibson P. Kelly then spoke in favor of calling the election. He believed that the cost would be a mere bagatelle for the taxpayers. Mr. Kelly started to tell what was the "animus" of the opposition to the proposition, and made an allusion to the president of the Valley Improvement Association which caused the chairman to call him to order. Mr. P. S. McNitt spoke in favor of postponing action. He favored having a lot for a library 150 feet square, and a building that would cost $25,000. Everybody wants a library, but we want one such as will be satisfactory beyond the mere present. The principal thing is not the location. He believed that as there will no doubt be an election on the question of the enlargement of the city very soon, this should be the question settled first. The trustees have the power to select a site, but the better way is to submit the question of site to the voters. Mr. Goode spoke again, expressing the belief that the settling of the library question would assist materially in carrying the annexation project. Mr. Kelly thought that the sum proposed was ample for a library building which would be ornamental and perfectly satisfactory for a city of 25,000 people. Trustee Lane stated that there is no positive promise from Mr. Carnegie to furnish money for a library; his promises are always conditional. He wanted nothing less than a $25,000 building. He did not believe in paying $6,800 for a site, when two blocks away, a site can be secured for $3,500. He had corresponded with a number of towns in Southern California as to the location of their library buildings. He had replies from ten of them, all stating that their libraries are located back from the main business streets. Trustee Watson spoke, explaining his views. The only question is in regard to the selection of a site. He believed that annexation would be impeded by postponing action in regard to the library, and declared himself in favor of annexation. Trustee Anderson expressed the belief that the price of a site is a secondary consideration, declared himself in favor of annexation, but said that the library question should be settled first. Mr. Elias Ayers stated that, living as he does on Cedar street, he is therefore a West-sider, and wanted the library located not more than two or three blocks from the center. Mr. Coker replied to Mr. Ayers, stating that he lives on the East side, but is doing business on the West, and made a plea for harmony. He was sure that if the library matter should be postponed two months it would be settled satisfactorily. He would vote for a library on Fourth street, but not at this time. Discussion then closed. Mr. Anderson made a motion that the site be selected on the corner of Fourth and Jackson. No second was heard. Mr. Watson moved that the city attorney be requested to draw up a resolution calling the election. Mr. Anderson seconded the motion. Mr. Lane wanted to know what was the use of voting bonds when we do not know what site is wanted. The chairman stated that, as a fact, it requires four members of the board to call a bond election; it would be useless for three members to instruct the city attorney as proposed, but stated the question and called for the vote. Messrs. Anderson, Watson and White voted for the resolution, Messrs. Coker and Lane voting in the negative. The board then turned up the question of selecting a site. The clerk then read the various propositions heretofore published, including the lots on the northwest corner of Fourth and Jackson, and the lots on the corner of Howard and Fourth for $6,800. Mr. Anderson moved that the site on the northwest corner of Fourth and Jackson be selected; seconded by Mr. Coker. Mr. Lane stated that he could not vote for this site for $6,700 when other sites are offered at sums not less than the people instruct him to do so. Mr. Anderson thought Fourth street the proper location. When it came to a vote, Messrs. Coker, Anderson, White and Watson voted aye. Mr. Lane no. The crowd promptly adjourned at this point.

The tax collector reported total collections to date $2,725.56. It was ordered that the gas and water companies be allowed to put up a $500 bond to insure their putting streets back in proper condition when disturbed, and to cover fees.

Messrs. R. Z. Imler and E. W. Pack appeared before the board, the former complaining that certain privileges of unloading cars in the alley back of their mill and lumber yard had been discontinued, much to their detriment. Mr. Pack, in a written communication, complained that the Glendale Mill Company stops their cars across the alley entrance to their yards, and later rearranged. After statements from both parties, the matter was referred to committee of the whole. Application to put in sidewalk by private contract was received from F. R. Sinclair, and granted. A letter was read from the district attorney's office, addressed to the board of supervisors, giving an opinion to the effect that the highway commission may proceed to improve Central avenue. An ordinance establishing the grade of Eagle Rock road passed first reading. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance imposing an occupation tax for the purpose of paying for the services of a night watchman.

BAZAAR PLANS.

At a regular meeting of St. Mark's Guild, on Thursday afternoon in the Guild hall, plans were discussed and formulated for a bazaar to be held December 8 and 9, in the Guild hall. There will be attractive booths, containing the various articles for sale, presided over by members of the Guild. Among the articles will be found aprons, pillows, work bags, fancy articles, candy and a delicatessen booth. The afternoon of the opening day will be especially interesting because of a baby show, where bright, attractive, handsome little folk will reign supreme. Special meetings of the Guild will be held during November, the first one on Thursday, Nov. 3, in order to complete the work for the sale on December 8 and 9.

Miss Anna Rehart entertained Miss Minnie Zart of Downey during the past week.

NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Something About the Amendments and Candidates

At next Tuesday's election the voters have to pass upon eight constitutional amendments and four bond propositions. The NEWS has given some study to these matters, being almost compelled to do so in an effort to skim over ever so lightly the mass of literature received daily for the past month in reference to them. The conclusions we have arrived at might be changed with accumulated knowledge, but at present are given for what they may be worth.

Amendment No. 1

Is the result of several years' work by a hold-over committee of able legislators, assisted by Prof. Plehn, of the State University, an expert and specialist on the subject of taxation. Its provisions, as far as they are new here, are modeled after those existing in other states, and are not experimental, having been successful elsewhere. The main object of changes proposed is to separate the subjects for state and local taxation. It provides that all revenues for state purposes be obtained from the earnings of public service corporations by a tax upon their gross incomes. This deprives counties and cities of the right to tax them, but to offset this no tax will be levied upon either real estate or personal property for purely state purposes. In Los Angeles County this year the rate levied for state purposes is 35.3 cents out of a total for state and county of 96 cents. One of the chief objects desired in framing this amendment is to relieve real estate of some of its present burden of taxation, which is now 90 per cent of the whole. It is claimed that the change will add four millions for the corporations for state support, increasing steadily with their increased revenues. It will make possible the assessment of real estate at practically its real value, and is favored by the realty associations generally. The amendment is opposed by the City of Los Angeles on the ground that it will, by depriving the city of the right to tax corporations, greatly diminish the revenue, but we believe this will be regulated eventually so as not to work any hardship in this direction.

Amendment No. 11

This amendment proposes to do away with the taxation of mortgages, and is a seriously needed reform. There is no question about the advisability of its adoption, as under the present law the borrower pays the tax, and frequently more. Unqualifiedly, vote yes.

Amendment No. 36

Relating to judges of superior court. This seems to be a change required for facilitating the hearing of cases in the court, and promises to go far towards relieving the congestion which frequently occurs.

Amendment No. 38

The adoption of this amendment will make more difficult the formation of new counties, as it provides that no new county may be formed with a population of less than 8,000; at present only 5,000 population is required. It provides, further, that the number of inhabitants left in the original county shall not be less than 20,000, instead of 8,000 as at present.

Amendment No. 44

This amendment is favored, we believe, by the bank commissioners. At present all banking laws are required to be "uniform" in their application. But in practice it is found desirable to discriminate between the large city banks and the smaller institutions in the country.

Amendment No. 52

This is a proposition to raise a state fund of five million dollars as a contribution toward the Panama-Pacific exposition of 1915. The tax levy will be extended over four years, and is not to exceed 50 cents on $1,000 valuation. It is pointed out by proponents of the measure that Louisiana, assessed at $500,000,000, proposes to vote on a bond issue of $6,500,000, while the assessed valuation of California is $2,000,000,000. We shall favor the measure, believing that the exposition will be of great benefit to the state.

Amendment No. 14

This is a measure to secure to the people of the state the right to fish in the waters thereof, and is made necessary by the closing of many of the streams by private owners. Should be supported.

Amendment No. 33

Authorizing the City and County of San Francisco to incur a bonded indebtedness to the amount of $5,000,000 in aid of the 1915 exposition. Outsiders have no cause to object to this.

Senate Bill 485

A proposition to bond the state for $9,000,000 for the improvement of the San Francisco water front by the building of wharves, piers, sea walls, railroads, and for dredging and filling and other improvements, all to be paid for out of wharfage receipts, so that the weight of the bonds does not fall upon the taxpayers of the state. It is approved by the Ship Owners' Association.

Assembly Bill 990

This is the state road scheme for bonds not to exceed $18,000,000 for the construction of a state highway system. As Los Angeles County has its own road bonds to take care of, it is improbable that this measure will receive any support in this section.

Senate Bill 227

This is the "India Basin" act, to provide a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purchase by the state of a large area of swamp land, which it is claimed will be a valuable addition to the harbor facilities of San Francisco. The act is opposed by the Ship Owners' Association, claiming that as this bond issue also is to be paid for out of the wharfage receipts, necessary improvements will be neglected, and that the additional harbor ground is not required.

Senate Bill 464

For a bond issue of $1,500,000 for harbor improvements at San Diego. The bonds are not to be sold until in the judgment of the harbor commissioners the harbor receipts are sufficient to take care of them.

On Tuesday next the voters of California will elect officers from Governor down to the last name on the roster. The regular Republican ticket headed by Hiram Johnson, will appeal to voters of that party as representing principles to which they are pledged and in which they believe. The election of governor, congressman, state senator and representatives has a bearing upon national policies. A senator is to be elected by the members of the next legislature and it is important that he should be a representative of the principles of the party. In the case of these offices mentioned, it is more than a question of individuals, it becomes a test of principle. Republicans will therefore put "none but Republicans" in office in any of these places. We do not believe that it is necessary for the Republicans to do any "scratching" on Tuesday next, for although there are no doubt good men on the other tickets, we doubt if they are better.

Attention is called particularly to the cases of Judges James and Conroy. Both are good men and aspirants for a position on the Appellate bench. Both names appear in the column devoted to "Independent" candidates, but only one can be chosen by the voters. Judge Conroy has a four-year term ahead of him in his present position on the superior bench. Judge James, at present occupying the position in the Appellate court to which he aspires, as his term expires on the first of the year, will step down into private life if not chosen by the voters to fill the position. He is too good a man and judge to be allowed to retire now at the height of his usefulness and should be elected.

As the time for voting draws near, interest becomes increased, of course, but the campaign has been marked by less excitement than usual except in spots. As usual both Republican and Democratic state committees are sending out literature assuring the public that their candidates are going to "sweep the State," but this is a part of the game and carries no weight. It only votes that count and no one can intelligently forecast the result.

The principal fight in the campaign now ending has been made on Capt. J. D. Fredericks, district attorney and regular candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. This fight is being waged principally through the medium of the Los Angeles Express and Mr. Thomas Woolwine. The proprietor of the Express, Mr. E. T. Earl and Mr. Woolwine have both personal grievances against Mr. Fredericks which accounts for much of the motive of the campaign against him. The one specific charge against Mr. Fredericks made by Woolwine which seems to merit some attention is in regard to the King Will case in which the district attorney is charged with allowing his interest as a private attorney to conflict with his duty to the public. Woolwine claims that Fredericks should have prosecuted for forgery in his capacity as public prosecutor instead of accepting a fee as private counsel. Judge Curtis D. Wilbur and other attorneys of high standing have testified that the action of Mr. Fredericks was entirely proper, on the ground that no charge of forgery was brought before the district attorney and owing to the limitations of the law governing in such cases could not possibly have been proved, as the defendant would have only to have sworn that the deceased gave authority to sign his name, and for other reasons well known to the majority of lawyers; Mr. Woolwine belonging to the minority.

The general charges made against Mr. Fredericks in connection with the Harper scandal and the board of supervisors are not worthy of attention. Mr. Woolwine is discredited on as high authority as that of Mr. E. T. Earl, who testified before the special grand jury of 1909 that he had told Mr. Woolwine in language bordering on the profane that he was a fool to make such a fuss without having the evidence. Altogether there is no good reason why the voters on Tuesday next should not express their preference for J. D. Fredericks for district attorney, rather than for Thomas Woolwine.

A STATEMENT OF FACTS.
To the Voters of Los Angeles County: Certain misleading statements having appeared in some of the papers of the county during the recent primary campaign, which were calculated to prejudice the minds of voters against the candidacy of Calvin Hartwell, the corner of this county, and now Republican nominee for election, and which were of such a nature as to create an impression in the minds of the voters that the office of corner has not been conducted by Mr. Hartwell in a manner satisfactory to the public, and that the undertakers of the county were especially dissatisfied;

Therefore, we, the undersigned undertakers in Los Angeles County, wish to bear testimony to the following facts: We have had to do with Mr. Hartwell in his official capacity on many occasions during the past three years, and have always received courteous and businesslike treatment. The corner and his deputies have at all times shown themselves ready and prompt to do all in their power to accommodate us and the public. Neither the corner nor his deputies have at any time tried to override the wishes of the relatives or representatives of a deceased person by the selection of an undertaker other than the one designated by said relative or representative, when such wish could be ascertained either before or after the funeral. On the contrary, to our knowledge, he has at all times endeavored to ascertain the preferences of the relatives or other representatives with regard to the disposition of the dead, and to carry out those wishes fully.

"I do not fear the nearing night;
Passing the dark will come my light."

The Pacific Light and Power company in Los Angeles, is reported as having declared that it will not make any extension of its lines in that city, as the rates established by the city make their business unprofitable. This affects Hollywood and other outlying territory very seriously.

The San Francisco Argonaut pokes fun at Mayor McCarthy for attempting to pay a tribute to Julia Ward Howe before a company of ladies in San Francisco gathered to do honor to that famous woman. One of the counts in its indictment is that the mayor alluded to the noted object of his praise as "Mrs. Julia Ward Howard."

The woman suffrage women are not having things altogether their own way even with their own sex. An anti-suffrage association has been formed in Los Angeles headed by prominent women of that city. It is noted that the reforms promised when they should obtain the franchise have not materialized in those states where equal suffrage prevails.

Has anybody seen the advertisement of the election to be held next Tuesday and which the law requires the supervisors to publish? The custom is to publish the call in some favored paper which is as a rule seen by but few of the general public. The law should be amended so as to require publication in every precinct outside the large cities, in a local paper if such is published, giving information as to polling place and officers.

The purchase of the local lines of the Pacific Electric Railway Co. in Los Angeles by the Los Angeles Railway corporation which insures universal transfers on all the narrow gauge electric lines in the city, is one of the most important deals ever consummated there and will be of great advantage to the traveling public. The system will control 350 miles of track. Mr. Huntington controls as in the past.

Under the new county license ordinance, precincts outside of incorporated cities vote Tuesday next on the following propositions:

"Shall wholesale and retail liquor dealers' licenses be granted in this precinct?"

"Shall winery keepers' licenses be granted in this precinct?"

"Shall hotel and restaurant liquor dealers' licenses be granted in this precinct?"

"Shall licenses for public billiard and poolrooms be granted in this precinct?"

At present there are only twelve "dry" precincts in the county, and even these have not been able to prohibit the sale of liquor under restaurant license privileges.

CINCH THE BOROUGH FIRST.

The San Fernando Press and other county newspapers in towns that appear to be in danger of consolidating with Los Angeles are explaining the advantages of the borough form of government. For the edification of those papers The Journal, speaking from an experience extending over a period of fifteen long, weary months, ventures the humble opinion that it would be the acme of wisdom for those thriving little cities—if they are determined to be foolish as to join Los Angeles—to take the precaution to cinch the borough at the same time that consolidation takes effect. Los Angeles politicians and promise-makers point with pride to this opportunity for self-government in the event that it falls—as it has miserably failed with Wilmington—to make good, but when any poor little consolidated section undertakes to lift up its head and do something for itself, it is beaten over the head and forced to relegate itself to the rear seats. Cinch the borough first, gentlemen, but in any event do not come in on the strength of any promises that the present city administration may make.—Wilmington Journal.

WHERE IS GLENDALE?

If it should be unnecessary for a citizen of Glendale to ask this question, but regrettable as the fact may be, there seem to be many who are uninformed or misinformed on this subject. The Pacific Electric Railway Company, after the fashion of railroads, assumes cheerfully that the universe swings always about where the railroad tracks are located, centers in the particular spot shown by the heavy black lines of their maps. The most recent maps of this system show Glendale as lying along Brand boulevard, while over an apparent gap of some miles to the eastward, the Glendale avenue section is shown still as "East Glendale" with the Salt Lake tracks running through the center of this provincial town. But not the P. E. tracks, bless your soul no, these do not touch anything on the eastward of the boulevard.

At the last meeting of the Valley Improvement association, Mr. Wattles showed a map which he had prepared outlining the present city and also the city as it will be when consolidation takes place. This map showed the center of the city of Glendale to be in the neighborhood of Fourth and Belmont streets (3 1/4 blocks east of Glendale avenue). The map showed further that the additions to be made to the city when consolidation takes place will not change this geographical center more than a block or so to the westward. The center of population Mr. Wattles stated is now in the neighborhood of the High school building and this center is not likely to be much disturbed by consolidation. This latter circumstance is a most fortunate one. It was not designed by the promoters of consolidation—it "just happened" and goes to show more than mere talk, that this community is naturally unified and that neither the wishes of Mr. Huntington's hired men nor any clique of individuals having ideas at variance with this view, will change the facts of the case. Glendale extends from the San Fernando road on the west to Eagle Rock on the East, in fact now, and soon in name officially. Brand boulevard is Glendale; Glendale avenue is Glendale, and if in the course of events Tropic and Casa Verdugo (treat softly) wish to acknowledge that they are Glendale—where breathes the wretch who says them nay?

MR. HANDLEY AND COMPARATIVE PRICES.

Mr. Lorin A. Handley is distributing circulars over this district which contain a comparative statement of the cost of products now as compared with the prices of the same in 1896. Mr. Handley is, we believe, the candidate of the Democratic party in this district for congress and wants the voters to "Vote to Protect your Families." He evidently believes that the document which he is distributing is an argument in favor of electing him to this high office. In the light of history now very ancient and in view of well-known facts, it is difficult to see how such a twist can be given to the argument furnished by this comparative statement of prices in the two periods. Some of the figures are very questionable; possibly five pounds of lard might have been bought somewhere in 1896 for thirty cents, but assuredly the place was not California. However, that is a mere detail. The question is, do the voters want to go back to this era of low prices by electing Mr. Handley and his friends to try their prentice hands on the tariff? It is surely the quickest way to get there. The comparison of present high with past low prices, takes the year 1896 as an example of the latter. Mr. Handley is a young man and possibly has no recollection of conditions in the United States during that year. But it is recent history to some. Mr. Cleveland was president, backed by a Democratic congress; the statesmen of the majority party had tried their hands on the tariff and produced the Wilson-Gorman bill—a fearful and wonderful measure that had paralyzed industry all over the country. Other conditions, no doubt, assisted, but this tariff bill was an important factor in bringing about conditions which no citizen in possession of his mental faculties would desire to see reproduced, even to accommodate Mr. Handley. Money had to a great extent disappeared from circulation, factories were idle and so were hundreds of thousands of American workmen. Prices of products and of labor were low because there was but little demand for either. Now prices are high, due in some measure to legislation possibly, but due undoubtedly far more to the real demand existing for both products and labor. Mr. Handley demands that the tariff be taken out of politics. He is late to acquire merit from that demand; it lacks originality; he wants a non-partisan tariff commission to revise the tariff—so does President Taft, and it may be remarked that the president has a quiet faculty of getting what he wants. No, Mr. Handley, we fail to see why because a barrel of flour cost only four dollars and a day's wages could not be procured at any price by thousands of workmen in 1896, we should send you to congress to struggle for a return of those conditions. A vote for W. D. Stephens promises no such unhappy consummation.

OBSERVATIONS UPON THE LIBRARY SITE.

By P. S. McNutt.

Speaking for the voters and taxpayers whom I represented at the trustees meeting Monday evening, please allow me to state:

There is always a best thing to do and a best way to do it. There are objections to the site selected. Are they of sufficient weight to justify asking the trustees to reconsider their selection? Two 50 ft by 150 ft lots, northwest corner of Fourth and Jackson streets, at $6750.

1. The site is too small.
2. It is in what will be too noisy a place.
3. It is on the future main business street.
4. It is on the dusty side of the street and is opposite a hospital and plumbing shop.
5. It is unnecessarily expensive.
6. It is not chosen by the will of the people or a majority of them.
7. It is on a street along which the hospital is growing high trees and treating more as an alley than a street.
8. There is not money on hand to buy this property and therefore selecting it can be but a vain thing.
9. It was selected hastily and without due and proper consideration.

A library site is selected and a library building erected not for this year and next, but for the years of the future. This is one of those things which when once done it is almost impossible to do again, hence it becomes so very important to do the best thing at the beginning.

A library building should be set at least 50 ft. back from any street. It would, of course, front on Fourth street and would likely be much further back from that street than fifty feet. But a building such as would be built, should be at least fifty feet in width, allowing it back fifty feet from Jackson street would bring it to the lot line of a stranger on the west. And suppose this stranger should build a two or three story block on his lot line, how would the library be then? Being on a business street this could easily happen. Besides if there is to be a nice large building there should be a sufficient amount of ground about it to fix it up with lawn, flowers and some shrubbery. The site selected is therefore too small.

It is now given in that Fourth street will be the future main business street. During most of the year, doors and windows must be open in this country. The noise of street cars and the much business and driving would be ever increasingly annoying to a library. This was very noticeable Monday evening at the city hall.

It is certainly very unwise to locate a library on a business street unless the lot be very large, or the building be an unusually large and high one. The dirt and dust blows in a northerly direction here in summer and with the fifth and flies collected on a business street as they usually do, there would be much unpleasantness from this source.

These would be from the first objectionable things near it, and the number of these would increase.

As plentiful as ground is in Glendale, it seems a needless extravagance to put $6750 into such a small place. A block or two in distance would make practically no difference in convenience, a better location could be had, a larger lot and for very much less money.

In so very important a matter as this, it would seem that the will of the people might be permitted to rule, or at least a guide be followed out of the consensus of opinion. Four men of the 3000 population can not make a satisfactory decision of this kind.

Would it not be better to prepare two or three places and allow the selection to be made by a vote of the people?

There is no available money with which to buy the site selected. There should be nothing less considered than a $30,000 building.

Unless there is some definite and unequivocal promise by Mr. Carnegie or some one else to furnish the money, it would certainly be very foolish to go to the expense of calling and holding a bond election to raise $12,000 as now proposed. What would be done with this money? It would be more than needed to buy a site, and would be wholly inadequate for the lot and building both.

It seems from report that it is as easy to get $30,000 from Mr. Carnegie as $15,000 if his conditions can be met. It is quite possible for Glendale to put herself in condition to supply the requirements. Would it not be well to do this? Even when a man expects to go into a prize fight with another man he spends a lot of money and two or three months' time in getting into condition. A few months' work would not be much to spend in acquiring a $30,000 library building. With five years gone away now since incorporation without any of this kind of work done, it cannot be understood why some are demanding such immediate action as to be willing to accept things so small and inadequate as will do the town no credit in the future. Especially so when greater things can be had by a little waiting and reaching out for them.

Well may we consider these things and carefully and deeply, and if then thought best ask the trustees to reconsider their actions at last meeting.

P. S. McNUTT.

FACTS REGARDING THE CORONER'S OFFICE.

The frantic efforts made by Calvin Hartwell and his machine friends to save to themselves the Coroner's office is quite pitiful. In a paid advertisement which they are publishing in the columns of the press throughout the county, entitled "A Statement of Facts," they try to tell to the voters of Los Angeles county that the coroner's office is conducted in a manner quite acceptable to some of the undertakers and that courteous and business-like treatment is handed out to all alike. The statement of facts is nothing but political buncombe of a very poor quality. It can truthfully be said that many of the undertakers whose names are attached to this misstatement of facts are using their best efforts to elect Dr. Pratt, and will continue to do so to the end.

It is a fact well known to all that the office of Coroner has been dominated and controlled by the corporations. Four years ago Calvin Hartwell, who was then County Recorder, could have been elected to that office but he was forced by the corporation agents at a packed convention to accept the nomination for Assessor, an office that paid exactly the same salary. In order to beat Ben Ward who was recognized as the best assessor Los Angeles county ever had. In a most strenuous campaign which cost him his life, Ben Ward ran independently, and won out by an overwhelming majority. Later on, when Dr. Lanterman resigned from the office the machine took care of Calvin Hartwell by appointing him a Coroner, but compelling him to retain practically the same office force that served under Dr. Lanterman. The present incumbent is no more coroner than you who read this. Fred Williams, chief deputy and Dr. Campbell, autopsy surgeon, by the grace of the corporations through their agents, are the moving spirits of the office, and until this campaign started you were told the bodies of your relatives who met untimely death must go to one of the two undertaking firms. Why? Because Fred Williams and the higher ups who placed and keep him there are stockholders in one or the other of these two houses.

The chief objection to Calvin Hartwell is that he is absolutely powerless in the office; a man who occupies the position of coroner should be coroner in fact as well as name, carrying all the power and responsibilities of the office, and they should not be delegated to any one, much less to one who is placed and kept in the office by the agents of the corporations.

In view of these facts, which deny as they may are still facts, the voters should support for the office of coroner Dr. A. C. Pratt, not because he is a Democrat, Republican, or of any other party, but because he states plainly that if elected he will be the Coroner, and that the wishes of the families, or the friends of the dead shall at all times be respected, and justice and fairness shall be done to all alike.

THE CONSOLIDATION QUESTION

At Tropic—A Challenge

Editor GLENDALE NEWS.

Dear Sir: For some time past those who are opposed to annexation to Glendale have evaded the questions at issue and refused to meet those who favor the movement in a joint investigation of the subject. The Tropic Civic association has sent the anti-annexation association a request to meet four or more parties who are known to favor the movement, and report the findings to both associations. Now then, gentlemen, if you are sincere in your professions of wanting to do the square thing for Tropic, all you have to do is to accept the request of the Tropic civic association and show by your works that you mean what you say. Come out and show your colors or lay down. We have nothing to conceal. Why should you have? The thinking people of Tropic want facts and figures and you will have to give same. We demand them of you. A square deal is all we ask. Are you going to give it, if not why? Remember the citizens of Tropic are waiting for your reply and upon your answer rests your future influence for good or bad in this matter. If your answer is for joint investigation, the public investigation the public approves, if not you condemn yourselves.

A SQUARE DEAL.
(Mr. Davis of the Anti-Annexation league phones us that the above challenge has been accepted.—Ed.)

Editor Glendale NEWS.

Sir: Enclosed please find copy of resolutions passed at the meeting of the Tropic Civic Association held in Logan's hall, Friday evening, October 20, 1910:

Resolved, that this association select four or more persons, who are known to favor annexation to Glendale, to meet a like number from the Anti-Annexation Association, with a view to gathering all facts, figures and other information bearing on the subject of incorporation, either as a city of the sixth class or annexing to Los Angeles or Glendale, said committee to meet and discuss the questions pertinent thereto, and when finished to sign report and submit same to both associations as the joint findings of said committees. It is further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Los Angeles Times and Examiner, also The Glendale NEWS, for publication.

The Sting of a Bee.

An eastern fable tells of a potentate who demanded that there should be brought to him the stings of a thousand bees killed because one of their colony had dared commit lese majesty by stinging the hand of royalty. When they were brought in a tiny golden thimble the king was so amazed to find that a thousand of the hypodermic points made such a little mass that he issued a manifesto to the effect that thereafter no person within the bounds of the kingdom should complain at the sting of a bee. The lesson of the fable is that petty annoyances hurt because they are exaggerated in the mind; that when they are seen in their actual proportions they are so slight as to merit only contempt. How much comfort would come to the majority of persons if they could but see the tiny size of the bee stings that lead them to acts of petulance, words of anger, expressions of reproach. The bee sting annoyances have caused lifelong breaches of friendship. They have broken up families and caused anger and resentment to take the place of love and fealty.—Baltimore American.

The Mississippi of Streets.

A street is like a river, with its human current carrying all manner of drift between its banks of residences or shops on either side. And if this simile be appropriate then New York's Broadway is the Mississippi of streets. Probably no other avenue in the world presents so many contrasts in the human and jettison it carries from Harlem to the Battery. Every type of humanity—uprooted saplings from farms and orchards, proud bulled craft in silk and satin—may be described in the surging mass. Banker and boot, black, the swaggering swell and the dragged derelict, walk shoulder to shoulder—rush, rather, for Broadway is a maelstrom, the embodiment of New York's bustle and hurry, the place where nothing can stand still. Richard Harding Davis once said that everybody "seems to be trying to reach the bank to have a check cashed before 3 o'clock."—George Seibel in Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Queer Collateral.

"Here is a fact as strange as it is true," said an Egyptologist. "Mummies in ancient Egypt were used chiefly as collateral." "When an Egyptian wanted to borrow he gave his father's or grandfather's mummy as security. Sometimes, if he required a large sum, he gave his father and both grandfathers, and he would even throw in the mummy of his mother-in-law if she fortunately happened to be in a mummified state." "Telling aside," the Egyptologist continued, "what I tell you is the truth. An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without pledging the mummy of some near relative. It was deemed in Egypt both impious and infamous not to redeem so sacred a pledge as that, and he who died with a family mummy still in pawn was himself buried in unconsecrated ground."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Postage Stamp.

Consider the postage stamp. It says nothing regarding the difficulty of the task assigned to it, but by dint of close application it usually gets there; also it delivers the goods.

Again, if one isn't enough to carry the thing through, two or more by working harmoniously together see the thing to a finish.

No matter if the (mail) matter be weighty, it puts a good face (of Washington) on it and goes directly to the point. It gets licked and stamped upon, and men besmirch its fair features and oftentimes give it more to carry than the (postal) union allows. But, in spite of all this, it sticks unflinchingly to the matter in hand by virtue of the fact that it knows that it has good backing.

Its stick-to-it-ivity is worthy of emulation by you.—Judge's Library.

Water Colors.

Water color painting was gradually raised from the hard, dry style of the eighteenth century to its present brilliancy by the efforts of Nicholson, Copley, Sanley and others. The Water Color society's exhibitions began in 1805 and may be said to mark the real beginning of modern water color painting. The great master, if not creator, of the art was the celebrated Turner, of whom we read so much in the works of John Ruskin.—Exchange.

How Old They Were.

"I see you employ a number of old men."

"I do."

"How old are they?"

"Too old to be interested in canoeing or mandolins or race horses or girls or tennis. That makes them fine for work."—Washington Herald.

Rather.

The subjoined item appeared in a French newspaper:

"There was found in the river this morning the body of a soldier cut to pieces and sewed up in a sack. The circumstances seem to preclude any suspicion of suicide."

Customs and Habits.

Our customs and habits are like the ruts to roads. The wheels of life set the rut into them, and we jog along through the mire because it is too much trouble to get out of them.

THE STRANGE STORY SIN.

Text, "Sin is the transgression of the law."—1 John III, 4.

One thing requires no argument—sin is here. It doesn't take much proof to show that the poor hulk in the surf with snapped masts, torn rigging, gaping holes in the side, is a wreck. The bodies washed ashore bear mute evidence that something has happened. The revelations of the police court, the moan of the prisoner, the quivering form in the electric chair, the poor scarlet girl of the street, the ghastly contents of the morgue, show a wreck somewhere. Let him who will deny it. The Bible proceeds from Genesis to Revelation with that assumption. If sin isn't a real thing, a veritable cancer eating at the vitals of humanity, then the Bible has no meaning and is a book of fables. The gospel then becomes the queerest hallucination that ever deluded this race of mortals, and the crucifixion was a suicide—day, a fearful burlesque. Indeed, civilization begins its calculations with sin as a principal factor. They are cutting prison stone now for boys not yet born. Horrible to contemplate, the hemp is growing to make the noose for the little fellow now nursing at his mother's breast. Is sin inherent or part of our growth? Have we fallen from "a little lower than the angels," or have we risen from "a little higher than the brute?" The Bible says the former, science the latter. The good book gives only a few verses to the fall, but whole chapters to the fall. That seems sensible. The important thing is not, Did a storm strike the vessel? But what can be done for the passengers?

Sin is suffering. Not the "white plague" nor pneumonia nor cancer has the most victims, but sin. The devilish part is that that wasn't the bargain. Beginning bright as the morn, it ends dark as the midnight. Sin promised life pleasure and profit, but we find its wages are death, torment and destruction, with the epitaph "Thou fool." We think of sin as adultery, uncleanness, murder, drunkenness—things that belong down in the slums, and that mustn't be mentioned except with a quick look around and a guarded tone. Christ began his list with evil thoughts and from that worked out toward the surface. And now comes modern psycho-therapeutics and tells us that sin can be, outwardly, a mighty respectable thing, but that it is fruitful of disorders to our brain centers, hinders our mental processes, produces vapors and miasmas of the soul, and that these make directly for impaired health, dyspepsia, rheumatism and a great host of nerve troubles; that sin has a tremendous effect on the excretory organs and marked chemical effect on saliva and the gastric juices. That is only the start—the sin in the thought. The end of sin committed is like your shadow toward evening—monstrous in its growth. And, like the stone thrown in the water, one circle produces another. When hatred was in Cain's heart murder wasn't far off. David found the seventh commandment lay next to the sixth.

Sin is solitude. That is, it shuts out. That's a queer thing. Most sin requires companionship, but once you've sinned you stand alone. A young fellow told me in the Tombs one day that his first feeling in the cell was one of fearful loneliness, utter friendlessness. When you tell a lie you are separated from truth and those that want the truth. When you commit adultery fear of exposure shuts you away from the clean. When Cain's mark is on your soul every man's hand is against you. Cattle go in herds, sheep in droves, birds in flocks, bees in swarms. The instinct of humanity craves companionship. But you are alone. That is fearful. Prisoners sentenced to solitary confinement go mad, and Matteawan spells hell. We read of Judas that after supper he went out and it was night. He went out. Out—note! Inside were light and warmth and gladness and fellowship, the best on earth. There's a stroke of genius in the writer's pen, "It was night." No push, no curse, drove him out—just the momentum of sin. His bed that night was in hell. So, too, Peter went out from the court, having lied and sworn that he didn't know his Lord. He went out into the darkness and wept bitterly. When your father's door is shut upon you, when friends cross to the other side of the street, when there's no door open save the trapdoor of perdition, then it's night—the blackest night of your soul's eclipse. Sin is solitude—it shuts out. The saddest words that ever fell from Christ's lips are, "Depart from me." Departure into the blackness of darkness forever. The iron curtain of eternity drops.

Sin is suicide. "Consequences are unpayable," Eliot said. The consequence of sin is soul death. "The wages of sin is death." Sin is a trail of powder we lay from our house to the train track where the sparks fall. The sinner is the acrobat standing on his head at Glacier point, in the Yosemite, or the boatman fooling around Buckhorn Island, in the rapids above Niagara. The wages are sure. Pay day comes early. Indeed, some are so anxious to give the devil his due that they pay him in advance. It isn't throwing dice. There's no chance—no gambler's luck. But "the gift of God is eternal life."

STRONG ARGUMENT FOR EXPOSITION

Visitors and Homeseekers Coming to California

"One of the strongest arguments in behalf of the Panama Exposition in 1915 is being presented every day right here in Los Angeles," says the Examiner of that city.

"Taking advantage of the colonist rate offered by the transcontinental railways, hundreds upon hundreds of people are flocking to the Coast, many to stay for good, but also a great many to see San Francisco, Southern California and all of the other attractions that the Pacific States have to offer.

"Without the extra inducement of the greatest world's fair in history, these people are coming. Everybody in the East feels that California should be seen at least once, and many would take advantage of the 1915 exposition to do so.

"So far as can be learned there is no great rush of colonists or tourists to New Orleans, and it is a safe prediction that the travel in that direction will not rise above the normal business at any time in the coming winter.

"It is not so with California. Hundreds are striving and saving and planning to reach the Golden West, if only for a brief, but delightful, visit.

"The most frequent remark of arrivals from the East is, 'I'm glad I'm here. I have always wanted to see California.' It cannot be otherwise."

CAN WE AFFORD TAX.

Exposition Would Bring Millions of Dollars to Southern California.

The Pasadena News endorses the proposition to tax the State for $5,000,000 in aid of the Panama Exposition in the following editorial:

"The San Francisco Panama Exposition is to be financed partly by a private subscription of $7,500,000 from the people of San Francisco, supplemented by a bonding of the city of San Francisco for $5,000,000 more, and a State tax to be shouldered by the people of the entire State for an additional $5,000,000.

"In November it will be up to the people of California to vote this $5,000,000 as a basis for securing the necessary Federal aid to make the exposition a success. The News is of the opinion that the State cannot afford to withhold the appropriation. In the aggregate it is a large sum. The burden to each individual taxpayer is comparatively small. If the government backs the project it is going to bring hundreds of thousands of visitors to this State, and these visitors are going to see Southern California. They are going to spend millions here. The resulting impetus to business generally and the demand for California real estate, and particularly Southern California homes is going to benefit every line of business and the owner of real estate in the added demand and stiffening of prices.

"The San Francisco exposition is of State-wide interest. Its benefits are certain. The appropriation should carry."

When the investors behind the Kuhn project—to select an isolated instance—decided to bring their Eastern capital out West and develop California lands by irrigation, they had to hunt, and hunt hard, for a suitable place in which to begin work. Yet these people actually wanted to throw money into this State, increase our tax collections by hundreds of thousands of dollars. Now the Panama-Pacific Exposition will advertise all California, and show to waiting capital all over the country and the world the way to the multitude of opportunities this State has. Vote for Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.

ARIZONA FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

California is after the Panama Exposition, and now that San Diego has abandoned her ambitions in favor of San Francisco, there is good prospect of winning the prize. The State Legislature, in special session, proposes to submit to the voters a proposition to issue $5,000,000 in bonds in aid of the enterprise. Arizona, in common with the other States and Territories generally, is interested in seeing that the big fair goes to San Francisco rather than to New Orleans.—Wickenburg (Ariz.) Miner.

The exposition in honor of the completion of the Panama canal will cause an immediate investment of fifty million dollars in this State. Money disbursed for labor and materials will directly benefit the farmers and artisans of California. Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 52 and Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33 are in support of the exposition. Vote for these amendments.

PRICE NOT TOO BIG.

San Francisco has decided to outbid all competitors for the Panama Exposition in 1915. In addition to a State bond issue for $5,000,000 it is proposed that the city shall raise the same amount. Ten million is a big price to pay for a show, but Californians do not regard it policy to let a good thing go by on account of cost. The Panama canal will do more for the Pacific Coast than any commercial launched since the rush of '49 to the Golden State.—Buckley (Wash.) Banner.

JUDGE WILLIAM P. JAMES.

Two Questions Answered.

1. How to vote for Judge William P. James as associate justice, district court of appeals, Second district, for the unexpired term.

The name of Judge James will appear on the ballot under the heading, "Independent Nominations." This is because the vacancy on the appellate bench, caused by the death of Judge Taggart, which is now being filled by Judge James under appointment, occurred too late to permit political parties at the August primaries to make nominations for that office. The office will not be on the ballot under any party heading and a voter may vote for the independent candidate for associate justice of the court of appeals for the unexpired term, without any fear that he is voting for more officers than he is entitled to. Please get this clearly in mind—Judge James' name will appear under the heading, "Independent Nominations," and will not appear under any party heading. Hence a voter may vote for Judge James and also for his entire party ticket or for as much thereof as he may choose.

2. Why should you vote for Judge James for associate justice of the Second district court of appeals for the unexpired term?

There is no reason why Judge James should not be continued in the position he has filled with such signal ability, and there are countless reasons why he should be thus continued. No department of civil government is more important than is the judiciary. It should be made up of men of commanding ability, thorough training, ripe scholarship, and of unblemished character and life. None but men of manifest and admitted personal purity should ever wear the judicial ermine. So fully have the people of California come to realize this that when, upon the death of Judge Taggart, Governor Gillett filled the vacancy thus occasioned by the appointment of Judge James, the action was greeted with joyful satisfaction by the bar and bench, as well as by the worthy citizenship of the counties composing the Second appellate district. A more acceptable appointment could not have been made, and the reasons for this delight included the general expectation that the court of appeals would for a term of years be strengthened by the presence and services of this able and accomplished jurist.

Judge James, though only at the morning of middle life, being forty-one and one-half years of age, is well known to the people of California. In 1894 he was admitted to the practice of law before the state supreme court, his advent to the bar was, by wise and experienced observers, marked as the prelude to a judicial career. That career began when in 1905 he was appointed by Governor Pardee as superior judge of Los Angeles County. This act of the state executive was approved by the people when, one year later, in 1906, Judge James was continued in office by an immense popular majority. With two years remaining of the full term as superior judge to which he was thus elected, Judge James, at the solicitation and upon the endorsement of a large part of the Los Angeles bar, was induced to resign his position as superior judge and accept the appointment tendered him by the governor to the position which he now holds, and for which he is a candidate for election. This steady advance in his professional and judicial career has not been accomplished by Judge James through skillful political management, but has been the recognition of a high order of ability and a well-merited reward of sterling integrity and faithfulness to duty. As evidence of this, one need only look upon the petition asking for Judge James' name to be placed upon the ballot, and there see the names of 525 of the members of the bar of Los Angeles County—nearly all of the active practitioners of all parties and divisions of parties.

In addition to the public interests which are involved in the keeping of this able and worthy jurist in the position he now holds, there is a personal claim growing out of the resignation by Judge James of his position as superior judge with the reasonable, though not expressed, expectation that he would be continued beyond the appointive term. In view of this fact, it would be but fitting that Judge James should be given the right of way to the position for which he is so eminently fitted and to which he is by the unwritten and righteous law of professional and official courtesy manifestly entitled.

Vote your party ticket, or as you may decide, but please don't fail to find the column "Independent Nominations," and vote for William P. James for associate justice of the appellate court.—From the Searchlight.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The program given Tuesday evening by the Chamber of Commerce in the I. O. O. F. hall was very well attended. The Hon. Will D. Gould of Los Angeles gave a lecture on city and county consolidation, the main point to be gained by consolidation was the advantage of the Owen's river water. The Glendale band furnished music. Mr. Frank Greiger of Los Angeles gave two vocal solos, Mrs. Dr. Bryant sang a solo, and Miss Bertie Shropshire and Miss Lillian Shropshire each gave readings. These programs given by the Chamber of Commerce are well worth attending.

At the public library last Saturday there were 169 books taken out which indicates the growing popularity of that institution. An addition is being made to the library building by Mr. Wellner, the landlord, which will be greatly appreciated by the patrons of the library and by Mrs. Danford, the librarian perhaps most of all, as she finds the quarters very much circumscribed.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company have installed their new mahogany seven position switchboard. It accommodates eleven girls and has forty-five lines to Los Angeles incorporated in a cable. The Minook News of Oct. 27th gives an account of a farewell surprise party tendered Mr. and Miss Filger on the eve of their departure for California, which was attended by seventy-five of their Illinois friends and was heartily enjoyed by all, particularly by the persons honored, as it was a genuine surprise to them.

Miss Conwell had Mrs. Joseph Simpson, Miss Dorothy Simpson and Master Ernest Simpson in her Maxwell car out for a morning spin. The auto collided with a street car at the corner of Eleventh and Union where there is a peculiar turn. The machine was completely demolished. Mrs. Simpson is suffering from a severe nervous shock while Miss Conwell sustained quite severe injuries. It was only to Miss Conwell's presence of mind that the accident was not much worse than it was, but being an experienced autoist, she was able in some measure to divert the catastrophe. Some time ago she drove a car from Los Angeles to San Francisco in the Tourist run to that city.

Judge M. C. Sloss, incumbent of the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, who was high man in the August primary, from all present indications, will duplicate this feat in the general election on November 8. Judge Sloss has attracted the general attention of the lawyers of this and other states by the legal learning displayed in his decisions. Appointed by Governor Pardee to the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Van Dyke in 1905 and then elected by the people to fill out the unexpired term, Judge Sloss has, by his force of character and ability, become the best known and most highly respected man on the bench in California. The people have wisely determined that honesty and ability shall have their reward and that the services of such a man shall not be lost to the state. Judge Sloss is in hearty accord with the progressive spirit of the times and the planks adopted by the Republican party in their convention at San Francisco.

THE LURE OF THE MASK.

Saturday evening the Country Club was the scene of another one of its successful social affairs.

Over one hundred guests, many of them out of town visitors, were present at the masquerade dance there.

The rooms were decorated with jack o' lanterns and flowers, the lights each bore a weird false face and many other devices were used to carry out the character of the evening. All dancers were masked until eleven o'clock. Costumes of all kinds and descriptions were present.

Prizes were awarded for the most beautiful and the most ridiculous characters. Mrs. Frank Beamon won the prize for the most beautiful. She represented a Spanish senorita and received a handsome pair of gold cuff links. Mr. V. Price Brown in the character of little Lord Fauntleroy won the prize for the most comical which was also a pair of cuff links.

Turkish costumes, Spanish costumes, Mexican costumes, Scotch costumes and in fact, costumes representing every nationality known to man were there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam acted as host and hostess of the occasion.

ON HALLOWE'EN.

The Guild dance held Monday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall was more than a success. The decorative scheme was splendid and in perfect harmony with the date of the occasion, the I. O. O. F. hall never looked more artistic. The walls were lined with belligerent appearing black cats and spooky looking bats, and the lights were veiled with orange colored paper which cast a warm glow over the room and the dancers.

Refreshments were served at intermission and flowers and Christmas crackers made dainty favors to carry home in memory of a pleasant evening.

The committee of arrangements comprised Mrs. Scott Johnson, Mrs. Walter Frayer, Mrs. George Woodberry, Mrs. Cecil Shaver and Mrs. Helen Campbell. Mrs. Henry Ward and Miss Minnie Penn had charge of the refreshments, and Miss Grace Cook and Miss Katherine Wells presided over the punch bowl.

Mr. Mortimer of Oakland, a friend of Charles L. Peckham, who is well known here, was entertained at the Chandler residence on Cypress avenue Wednesday afternoon.

Very slow progress is being made in the good road improvement at this place. It seems from a look-on that the work was almost as far advanced two weeks ago as it is now, but it is supposed that those in charge of the work could show material advancement.

Mrs. Charles L. Peckham entertained at the home of Mrs. C. C. Chandler Friday noon. The table was decorated entirely in yellow. The guests included Mrs. Scheyler Clark of Los Angeles, Mrs. Erastus Nichols of Los Angeles and Mrs. C. L. Chandler and Mrs. E. B. Ellias of this place.

John Kirkham, now that his home on Park avenue just west of Brand has been completed, is starting the erecting of a house on a lot owned by his father on Central avenue. The funeral of Miss Genevieve Gilmore was held from the home of her parents on Tenth street, Monday afternoon. Miss Gilmore died Friday after a long illness of consumption. She was popular among the young folks of this place and was considered a true Christian girl. Mrs. Mabel Carpenter of Los Angeles, who some time ago purchased two lots on Park avenue in the Ayers tract, is putting up a temporary home on the rear of one of the lots. Just as soon as this temporary home is completed the family will move to this place and occupy it. Within a very short time Mrs. Carpenter will begin the erection of a home to cost about $4000 which the family will move into, using the building that is being erected for a garage.

This week was a week of tree trimming along the streets of Tropic. The most work in this line was done on Central avenue in front of the property owned by C. H. Scheu just north of Cypress street. All of the large pepper trees along this street have been cut back to the very large limbs and at this time present a very bare appearance. It is believed that other work in the improvement nature will be done on this property soon. The large pepper trees along the rear of the Rich property on Tropic avenue were trimmed this week, as were also the trees on Tropic at its extreme east end. The several large pepper trees which stood before the Edwards property on San Fernando road corner Tropic avenue, have been grubbed out along with the hedge in front of the same property.

The decorations of the room, by the young ladies, were unquestionably the finest and most unique seen in this place for some time. Shocks of corn, witches, turtles, and, in fact, every conceivable Halloween decoration being utilized in giving the spacious rooms a genuine "spooky" appearance. Pumpkins of every size, illuminated by candles, peeped out from every corner and nook.

During the evening Halloween games were indulged in and altogether an unusually jolly time was experienced. Delicious Halloween refreshments were served. About thirty young people were in attendance.

TROPICO METHODIST GLEANINGS.

A report made by the treasurer of this church for the first month of the present fiscal year shows that by the new envelope system which the church has taken up the organization has met all expenses up to date. were given by the ladies present. This society was formed by the ladies of the Adventist church, but every one is cordially invited to attend the meetings, regardless of creed or denomination. Meetings are held the last Wednesday in each month.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor enjoyed a 180-mile auto ride Saturday last. The trip was made in one day, but that can be accounted for, as the wheels of machine struck the high places in the road once in awhile, the balance of the time they simply flew through the air.

Alpha Pringle of 1326 West Fourth street gave a sheet and pillow case class party last Monday evening, which was attended by pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the Sixth street school. Games were played, refreshments served and a very delightful time was enjoyed by all.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Miner, Ivy street, on Tuesday afternoon. Many good addresses on different topics were given by the members, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Misses Orpha and Addie Soederin, formerly of Michigan, but now of Highland Park, have bought the home of Mrs. Morehead, 1447 Hawthorne street, and expect to occupy the same this week. Mrs. Morehead has taken a responsible position with a leading cloak and suit house in El Paso, Tex.

Frank D. Booth, of West Seventh street, who together with Mr. J. C. Belden has made a very fine and useful invention, left last week on a trip through the East in the interest of the same. On his return to Glendale he will build a $10,000 mansion, providing his friends here will send him the necessary funds to make the trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tatlow are rejoicing at the rapid progress which their little son, Keith, is making towards recovery after a year's illness. The little fellow was the victim of an accident and his case was wrongly diagnosed by the New Jersey physician who attended him. Under the care of a Los Angeles nerve specialist, the boy is rapidly gaining strength and the full use of his limbs.

The score of last week's "spirited game of ball" that was held on the West Glendale diamond, is found wanting for the simple reason that when partly finished the "young men" forgot their dignity and became as "little boys," consequently the game was called off. We hope to have a better score to report in next week's NEWS, as there was a splendid game on for Wednesday afternoon. The school continues to grow; four more scholars last week.

Halloween has come and gone, but the result of some of the pranks of the mischievous boys are still in evidence. The wheel of some one's wagon, apparently a very good one, newly painted yellow, adorns the peak of a Home phone pole, Fourth and Columbus avenue, while one of its partners, occupies a more lowly position in one of the streets some blocks to the south. The body of these wheels was seen on Central avenue.

A JOLLY EVENING WITH THE HOBGOBLINS.

Miss Gladys Everett entertained Monday evening at her home on Hawthorne street with one of the jolliest parties of the season. The house was decorated with choice flowers and ferns while Jack o' lanterns of every size and description could be seen in every nook and cranny, each one vying with the other as to good looks. Games, consistent with Halloween, were enjoyed throughout the evening and at a late hour, refreshments were served. Those present were Esther Sinclair, Earl Severance, Edmund Moffet, Maybeth Pigg, Howard Elliott, Kathlene Dodge, Howard Bradley, Guy Roy, Leta Foy, Phoebe Reeves, Guy Bixley, Marion Monroe, Flora Kenny, Edith Waterman, Cecil Crandall, Lehan Crandall, Cleo Hartley, Joe Hartley, Ben Dunham, Gladys and Irving Everett, Mrs. J. O. Elliott, Mrs. G. M. Wilson, Mrs. Kenny, Mrs. J. W. Everett.

BASE BALL ITEMS.

Saturday last, Verdugo played a return game with the Columbus who defeated them in the previous game. Verdugo, however, came off victorious on Saturday, winning by a score of 12 to 8, making the honors even. Verdugo played very poor ball for five innings, after which they settled down and played a steady game. Manager Everetts has added another new man to the team, Clarence Peck, also an old Tropic player. He pitched the innings of good ball Saturday, but the team behind him gave no support, making ten errors, but the latter part of the game was better and the final result of 12 to 8 satisfactory.

Sunday Verdugo played the Hat Box team, the final score being a tie of 2 to 2; the game was called off in the eleventh inning on account of darkness. The game was a fast one. It was a pitcher's battle to the end, Gervals having a little the best of the bargain. The Hat Box team scored their runs on an error in the second inning. They, the Hat Box team, were at bat, had three men on bases and two men out; the latter placed a long fly to center, but Bunnell could not see the ball as the sun was in a direct line with it and before he could reach it two men had crossed the plate. That gave the Hat Box team the lead and they held it until the ninth inning when Verdugo proved that a game is not lost until the last man is out. In the last half of the ninth Verdugo rallied and scored two runs, making five good clean hits. Two more innings were played but neither team was able to score, the game was then called because of darkness. Gervals made fifteen men fan the air and allowed five hits. Martinez made ten of Verdugo's men walk the plank and gave seven hits.

Next Saturday Verdugo will play the U. S. C. Dental Colleg who say they will endeavor to extract some of the Verdugo players' teeth.

Sunday Verdugo will play the Bilan Lumber Co. of Los Angeles. Smith and Klein of the Pacific Coast League will compose the battery for the Lumber Co. and the game should be a good one.

THE WEATHER.

Last Friday night the residents of this section were treated to a rather fair imitation of an old-fashioned thunder storm, as far as the noise is concerned. Several very loud explosions were heard in the heavy clouds overhead and the lightning that preceded them was the real thing in appearance if happily not in execution, although there were a few electric lights interferred with here and there. The rainfall was not measurable and the weather since has been all that could be desired. It is now time for frost in the lower portions of the valley, and the late potatoes and tomatoes are being highly favored by its keeping off.

An Honest Judge

California should congratulate itself upon the fact that it will have the opportunity this fall to vote for William P. Lawlor for Justice of its Supreme Court. Lawlor was the judge before whom Abe Ruef was being tried when Francis J. Heney was shot down. He has been the target for the bitterest hatred on the part of criminal and powerful interests. He has emerged from it all with unimpaired judicial vision clear and unperturbed.
